

DAVID FENSTER

Relationship Manager

David graduated with a bachelor's degree in media studies and production from the Klein College of Media and Communication in 2018. During his four years he hosted a variety of sports talk shows on the schools radio and television stations. With that, he also was the sideline reporter for the women's lacrosse team and the color commentator for the men's basketball team. David was also very active in his fraternity Alpha Epsilon Pi serving on the executive board as Risk Management Chairman and the President of Recruitment. Along with that, he co-founded a startup sports brand called "The Phifth Quarter".

Since graduation, David became a licensed realtor in PA in the Summer of 2019 where he helped his clients buy and sell multiple homes and leased multiple apartments while being the marketing director for the brokerage. He also worked at Fox Sports Radio and Entercom Communications working overnights and weekends as a producer.

David joined the Stanley-Laman Group in the spring of 2020 as a marketing associate.